GENERAL PRICE LIST

These prices are effective as of March 1, 2020, but are subject to change without notice.

A Locke Funeral Services Family of Funeral Homes

Funeral costs generally are divided into three areas: the services the funeral home provides, things you may purchase from a funeral home (merchandise), and things you may ask the funeral home to pay on your behalf (cash advances). This General Price List outlines those three areas. There is a lot of information here; ask your funeral professional if you have any questions.

- *A. Services of Staff $ 2935
- Our fee for the services of funeral professional and staff includes, but is not limited to, staff to respond to initial request for service; arrangement conference with family or responsible party; preparation and filing of necessary authorization, certificates, and permits; and preparation of obituary notices. Also included in this charge are overhead expenses relative to our facility such as insurance, maintenance and utility expenses, and secretarial and administrative costs.

This fee for our basic services and overhead will be added to the total cost of the funeral arrangements you select. (This fee is already included in our charges for direct cremations, immediate burials, and forwarding or receiving remains.)

The goods and services shown below are those we can provide to our customers. You may choose only the items you desire. However, any funeral arrangements you select will include a charge for our basic services and overhead. If legal or other requirements mean you must buy any items you did not specifically ask for, we will explain the reason in writing on the statement we provide describing the funeral goods and services you selected.

Additional Services the Funeral Home Provides

Covering the Cost of Funeral Expenses

Many people plan ahead for their last rites and the costs associated with them. Financially, their plans may include a prepaid funeral plan, life insurance, savings or investments. For others death comes unexpected and without the opportunity to plan or prepare.

It is important to be realistic about funeral expenditures. We do not want anyone to spend more than they are able to pay. It is our desire to offer affordable options to everyone, regardless of their situation.

As in all other transactions you are involved in, payment for our services, merchandise, and advance payments to others on your behalf is due at the time arrangement for the services are made. We know this can present an unneeded burden at a difficult time. Please visit with us about any special circumstances which you face.

We will openly and honestly discuss costs associated with our services, costs of merchandise, and costs of other arrangements. We will discuss with you the options we have for payment of these costs.

Consider the Pros and Cons of Each Payment Method

With any option that you choose, you must weigh the risks and benefits of each. On one end of the spectrum, you have fully-insured prepaid funeral plans. These plans offer the highest amount of protection. On the other end of the spectrum, you have personal accounts. These offer the least amount of protection for funeral funds. In the end, it's up to you to decide which option is the best for you and your family.

- Pre-funded funeral arrangements
- Cash Transaction. We accept Cash, Check, Cashier's Check or Money Order
- Credit Card payment. We accept Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express or a combination thereof
- Assignment of verifiable life insurance.

Estate Payment Policy: Because funds will not be immediately available from a deceased's estate, we request that payment be made by you, and then you may be reimbursed by the deceased's estate once an estate is opened.

After the Services

Out of commitment for service, we offer our Continuous Care program to listen, care, educate, and provide you with support in difficult times. It is a free support service provided by the funeral home for the weeks and months to come. A Continuous Care Coordinator can help by providing support and resources for individuals and families after loss.
